A ground-breaking new book

The Greening of Global Finance

Edited by Professor Graciela Chichilnisky, (USA and Argentina), Professor Maria Corporale Madi, (Brazil), Professor Chow Fah Yee (Malaysia), Miriam Kennet and Michelle Gale de Oliveira

Published by the Green Economics Institute

This unique book aims to demystify finance and make it accessible and usable for everyone!

This book explains the main features of global finance and its implications & also how it needs to change.

The increasing growth of sovereign debt imposes the adoption of government austerity programmes that mainly rely on tax payers. As a result, the social tensions that have emerged in the markets have been shifted to the political sphere. The failure of such speculation is then paid for not by investors but by the public. For ordinary people who often have no shares, nor savings, this is a disaster.

Part 1 Introduction Setting the Scene: The Economics of Resilience and Survivability
Part 2 Background to the Reform of Finance
Part 3 Features of the Global Finance System
Part 4 Risk
Part 5 Geographies of Global Finance
Part 6 Micro Finance and Micro Credit
Part 7 Background and History to Approaches to current problems
Part 8 Approaches to Current Economics Problems
Part 9 Public Finance
Part 10 Green Economics and Global Finance
Part 11 Green Economics – Sharing Global Finance
Part 12 Rethinking Growth
Part 13 Finance for Sustainability
Part 14 Global Governance Improvements in Finance
Part 15 The Development of Asian Finance: China and Japan
Part 16 Concluding Master Class Lecture

To order this book Email: greeneconomicsinstitute@yahoo.com & GEIBooksandjournal@yahoo.co.uk

RRP £65.00 plus postage and packing: Exciting Introductory offers and options available

Published by The Green Economics Institute www.greeneconomics.org.uk
The Greening of Global Finance

Launched by the BBC World Service at our Oxford University Conference

This book brings innovations in finance to a broader group of readers, students, policy makers, academics and campaigners in this ground breaking volume.

Editor’s Biographies - For the First time ever in a Finance Book – 5 women Editors!
Professor Graciela Chichilnisky has worked extensively in the Kyoto Protocol process, creating & designing the carbon market that became international law in 2005 and acted as a lead author of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, which received the 2007 Nobel Prize. A frequent keynote speaker, special adviser to UN organisations & heads of state, her pioneering work uses innovative market mechanisms reducing carbon emissions, conserve biodiversity, ecosystem services and improve the lot of the poor. She is a Professor of Economics & Mathematical Statistics Columbia University & the Sir Louis Matheson Distinguished Professor Monash University.

Professor Maria Alejandra Madi holds a PhD in Economics. She works at the intersection between macroeconomics, finance and socio-economic development. Retired Professor at the State University of Campinas, Brazil, she is currently Director of the Ordem dos Economistas do Brasil and Counselor at the Conselho Regional de Economia–SP. Besides her participation as co-author in chapter books edited by the Global Labor University, she is a regular author with the Green Economics Institute.

Professor Chow Fah Yee Associate Professor from University Teknologi MARA, Malaysia. She obtained her Ph.D from University Malaya, Malaysia.

Miriam Kennet is Director and Co-founder of the Green Economics Institute. She is a member of the Environmental Change Institute, Oxford University. She is the editor and author of 100s of articles, book chapters and books in many languages. Miriam recently was named as one of the 100 most powerful women making change globally by a poverty charity. She is the founder and Director of The Green Economics Institute and the International Journal of Green Economics.

Michelle S. Gale de Oliveira a director of the Green Economics Institute, UK & a member of the Law School of the University of London School of Oriental and African Studies (SOAS), with an MA in Human Rights Law, Peace-Building, and Developing Countries. Founder of the Gender Progress Consortium, and a specialist in in Political Science and International Relations. Her writing has been featured in Europe’s World, one of the foremost European policy magazines. She lectures and speaks regularly in Africa, Europe, and Latin America. She has led delegations to Conference of Parties (COP15/16) in Copenhagen and Cancun and RIO+20, where she ran three popular side events on green economics.

Book chapters authors from around the world
Miriam Kennet, Maria Madi (Brazil) Sir Crispin Tickell (UK) Chow Fah Yee (Malaysia) Ricardo Goncalves (Brazil), Steven Mandel, Aija Graudina (Latvia) Stanislava Titova (Latvia) Max Marioni (Italy & Slovenia) Vyacheslav Potapenko(Ukraine) Carlos Restituyo (Dominican Republic) Kanupriya Bhagat (India) Dr Natalie West Kharkongor (India)Tutik Rachmawati (Indonesia)Sumaya Abdi (UK, the Netherlands and Somalia)and Hans Guenter Wanger (Germany and China) Michelle S Gale de Oliveira (USA & Brazil) Michael Taylor (UK) Alistair Milne (UK) Juliane Goeka (UK and Germany) Sophie Billington(UK) Jonny RossTatum (UK)Edward Goldsmith(UK) Volker Heinemann (UK and Germany) Clive Lord (UK) Manan Jain (India) Dzintra Atsaga (Latvia) Gundega Dambe (Latvia) Kristina Jociute (Lithuania) Igor Makarov (Russia) Maria Delfina Rossi (Italy) Philip Lymberry (UK) Bradley Panic (UK) Rafael Cardoso (Brazil) Katsushi Imai (Japan & UK) Graciela Chichilnisky (USA & Argentina)

To order this book Email: greeneconomicsinstitute@yahoo.com and GEIBooksandjournal@yahoo.co.uk
RRP £65.00 plus postage and packing: Exciting Introductory offers and options available

Published by The Green Economics Institute www.greeneconomics.org.uk