Discover the Many Benefits of Membership

Taking out membership with the Green Economics Institute, has never been easier. You are at the forefront of an exciting new discipline and a very fast growing global networking organisation promoting your ideas all over the world and linking you to 6500 specialists.

Our Membership Package includes a large number of benefits, such as:

- Take part in world-altering charitable work and providing a meaningful legacy
- Be involved in trainings and educational outreach to businesses and government
- Take an active roll in future-proofing economics and preventing poverty
- Have your say in stopping further climate change, instability and biodiversity loss.
- Change the way economics is done forever!

In addition to these life-changing opportunities, you will:

- Receive our international networking members magazine twice a year, The Green Economist
- Interns receive The Green Intern and later The Green Economist
- Obtain excellent reductions rates at all our exciting international and UK events Our forthcoming conference already has exciting speakers lined up including 3 Nobel prize winners and people whose organisation have recently won this prize and other people similarly honoured for their innovative work and exciting ideas.
- Gain preference for other openings and launches and speeches in parliaments around the world

- Receive invitations for speeches and workshops on topical themes.
- Enjoy special members representation at our meetings held regularly in Oxford and London.
- Be invited to join our team of researchers and consultants on special projects, including bids
- Participate in bids for work with the EU and other agencies, including government & business
- Participate in bidding consortias to governments and International Institutions, as we implement our ideas and change policy. This year these have included FP7 Large EU Bids, Socrates, Leonardo, Youth in Action and Erasmus Programmes amongst other partnerships. These are excellent for the careers of our members- and we also receive many new jobs information about influential and top jobs to which we give priority to our members and suggest they get interviews early on.
- We support our members during job and academic and career interview processes and we are often asked to write references when our members apply for jobs. Very often we tip the balance in an application as employers see us as forward thinking and effective as an organisation.
- Access to our Green Economics and Sustainable Development Books Series with Gower Management and Ashgate Academic Press and our work with other publishers including on going projects with other top publishers like Routledge and Oxford University Press and our own regular publications lodged with the British Library.
- Receive regular membership emails updating you on current events
- Be a special guest at our office events, members drinks, guided wildlife walks, and policy evenings
- Take part in special members-only events such as web seminars on topics such as carbon trading with global leaders and experts, to meet other fascinating, international and multidisciplinary people – members like you, in one of the fastest growing global networks.
- Gain privileged website-space: all members are entitled to use a page on our website to write about the issues of their choice and publicise. Our website receives over 10,000 visitors per month.
- Obtain preferential publishing and consultancy support as well as access to our jobs network.
- Have interns allocated to work on your special projects if required.
- Be invited to lecture at speaking engagements, for which we are always looking for speakers.
- Publish with the us in our very wide variety of Institute publications, including journals and books.
- Received reductions for places at our regular award-winning trainings on the latest current topics
- Have access to renowned interns from the worlds very top academic institutions and the top business schools in many countries to help on your own projects and also to internships of the highest quality
